

Wisconsin Community Media is a 501(c)(6) organization. Our Board of eleven members meets monthly. We have five standing committees: Finance, Conferences, Public Policy, Membership, and Communications & Resources.

Committees are typically chaired by a member of the Board. Committee members may be any member of the organization, not only the member station's primary contact, but also associate members and emeritus members related to the member station. As a result, not only staff of community media centers may be involved, but also commission members, producers who are members of their station, and elected and appointed officials may serve on committees.

Friends may also serve on committees.

At our Spring Conference WCM holds an annual meeting of our members. Each member station has one vote. Emeritus members also have one vote.
